SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—All morning long this city has been in a state of feverish excitement due to the arrival last night of the Golden Gate of the transport Sherman with the First California Volunteers and Batteries A and D of the California Heavy Artillery. The excitement and commotion created by the announcement of her arrival lasted until the early morning hours, and there was but little sleep last night for relatives and friends of those on board the transport waiting at the docks for General Sherman's order to make the entrance into the harbor.

ANXIOUS RELATIVES.
With the rising of the sun today thousands of people left their beds to obtain the morning papers containing the accounts of the vessel's arrival, the docks outside the Golden Gate and the final action of the committee of the program for today.

Others and brothers and sisters returned the freshly printed sheets nervously, hoping to run across a single paragraph or even a word telling of their boys on the transport. The excitement of the soldiers on receiving letters and packages from their friends in the city, hearing of news of the slinging of questions and receiving of replies of the reporters and those fortunate enough to get within talking distance of the vessel as she lay at anchor just outside the Golden Gate, was all vividly and picturesquely described in the papers.

RUSH TO THE WATER FRONT.
The first cars bound for the water front today carried anxious relatives and friends of the boys, all eager to get news or to be sure of positions near the chartered steamers, yachts and tugs which are to bear thousands of people out to the Golden Gate to form a part of the parade which is to welcome the transport as she passes through the gate and to escort her to an anchorage off the government transport dock.

DECORATIONS OF VESSELS.
It can be truthfully said that there is hardly a vessel in the bay that is not decorated for the occasion, and the yachts and tugs and bay steamers that are to take part in the naval parade are so decorated.

Governor Henry T. Gage, Who Will Welcome the Returning Heroes in the Name of the Great State of California.

fly from every available place; every eye has its burden of watching.
THE START FOR THE GATE.
The start of the welcoming vessels for the Golden Gate will be made promptly at 12 o'clock, and the Sherman is scheduled to reach a point opposite Fort Point at 1 o'clock. As the big transport nears the gate the national salute will be fired from the forts in the harbor and from the battleship Iowa.

This honor is by courtesy of the Department in Washington. At a given signal from Commodore Sprockels the yachts and tugs will form in a designated order and proceed up the bay. When the transport reaches the Government dock an order to disperse will be given to the accompanying vessels, and the first part of the day's celebration will be over.

ALL BYES ON GOLDEN GATE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The water front today seems to be the most attractive portion of San Francisco. It is literally black with people from one end to the other. Every pier is crowded with excited people, and Telegraph Hill, which commands a magnificent view of the Golden Gate and the harbor, is crowded with spectators anxious to catch a glimpse of the Sherman as she nears the harbor. All eyes seem to be turned westwardly. From every quarter of the bay yachts, launches, tugs and bay craft of all descriptions made their way through the water, all converging toward one point, the Sherman.

The order for the tug boats and bay steamers to leave their positions was issued by Commodore Sprockels shortly after noon, and one by one they could be seen moving from their docks, their bows turned toward the Golden Gate.

CROWDED PLEASURE BOATS.
The pleasure craft were crowded. Telscopes, field glasses and cameras, and the inevitable flag seemed to be the burden of the people. As the fleet became greater by the addition of each new boat, the commanders became cautious and the wined speed of the vessels was run down to a tantalizing halt. The boats seemed to jostle one another, but on more than one occasion it appeared to the watchers on the shore that collisions were imminent. The human eagerness all gathered on the shore sides of the vessels, and the slant of the vessels toward that side caused some alarm, but fortunately there were no accidents of any moment.

PERFECT DISCIPLINE.
The boats took their appointed positions as if by magic. Everything was done so smoothly and with so little apparent effort that it looked as if the fleet had been schooled to the perfection point, but in reality the fleet had no greater instruction than that contained in the printed circulars issued to the commanders of the vessels participating.

THE SHERMAN SIGHTED.
The passing of the welcoming fleet down the bay toward the ocean seemed for the moment to appease the watchers on shore, but suddenly eyes more keen than others sighted the Sherman and an escort of tugs nearing the bay, and all interest in the gaily decorated yachts was for the time lost. Every face was turned toward the ocean. Nearer and nearer the big white steamer came, and closer and closer the two fleets came toward each other. The two strings of yachts and tugs reached the turning point opposite the fort, and took up their places, leaving a broad ribbon of water between the lines for the Sherman to pass through to the head of the transport.

As the Sherman approached the gate the and batteries belched forth in a national salute, and the bay steamers took up the signal with their sirens. Nearer and nearer the welcome vessel came, and at last dashed her prow into the space left for her, and such a scene occurred as has never been seen on this coast before.

Flags dipped, flags were waved, whistles screamed, cannon were fired, trumpets were blown and megaphones and marine glasses were turned on the delighted boys who crowded the rigging of the great steamer.

The signal was given to the fleet of yachts and tugs to get under headway just in time for them to fall into the wake of the transport, which, of course, was given the place of honor.

PEOPLE WILD WITH JOY.

Slowly the fleet moved along with the transport. It seemed as if every floating thing on the bay had been pressed into service. The fleet gathered strength in numbers as it arrived well inside the bay. It was a grand sight, and one never to be forgotten.

The gallant Californians on the transport seemed wild with delight over the reception given them. They cheered and cheered, waved flags and handkerchiefs,

A Joyous Greeting to the Honored Sons of the Golden State
Who Risked
Their Lives
on the Field of Battle for the Benefit of Their Nation
and Their Countrymen.

and caps and overcoats in their exultant.

As the fleet swept past the sea wall the din became more and more deafening, and the waving of flags became frantic. The people were mad, it seemed, but never before have Californians had the opportunity to welcome their own kin from the wars.

If they really lost control of themselves for the time, excuses are plentiful, but under all this great feeling of gladness are memories, dear to all, of those poor brave fellows who have given their lives and their all for the love of their country and the defense of their flag.

The realization of their loss has not been lost for all time. It is but buried under the avalanche of joy which today greets the brave sons who have been spared to return to their homes to once more take up the duties of domestic life where they were cut short by the call of their country for their aid.

SALUTED BY THE IOWA.

As the fleet neared the transport dock the Iowa let go her batteries, and the curling smoke as it left the cannon muzzles presented a sight which few watchers on land and water had ever seen before. Just before the anchor of the Sherman was dropped, Commodore Sprockels gave the signal for the escort to disperse and the first detail of the day's celebration was over.

SHERMAN AT ANCHOR.

The Sherman will lay off the transport dock tonight, and tomorrow morning she will be moved into her position alongside the pier, and the boys will be taken ashore for breakfast, after which they will march to the Presidio, where they will be given a furlough of twenty-four hours.

Tonight there will be a grand illumination on the bay, and the city will be lit up with electric lights which have been stretched in testy designs at every conspicuous point.

LABORI ONCE MORE SCORES.

Under His Barbed Questions
the Enemies of Dreyfus Wince and Squirm.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
RENNES, Aug. 24.—When the fourth session of the third week of the second trial by court-martial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, charged with treason, opened at the Lycee here at 6:30 A. M. today, Colonel Jouaust, president of the court, ordered that the evidence given by M. Pellé, a friend of the late Colonel Sandherr, Chief of the Intelligence Department, be read by the clerk of the court. It was to the effect that Colonel Sandherr said the Dreyfus family offered him 150,000 francs on condition that he would clear Dreyfus.

M. Demange, for the defense, disposed of the allegation by reading the actual note written on the subject by Colonel Sandherr, thereby proving that the Colonel's remarks had been distorted, Dreyfus' brothers having only said: "We are convinced of the innocence of our brother, and will spend our entire fortune to discover the truth."

The testimony of the first witness of the day, M. Linolle, a former official of the Government, was also in favor of Dreyfus, as it was in direct contradiction to what M. Dubreuil deposed yesterday in regard to the alleged intimacy of Dreyfus with the German ambassador at the house of M. Buisson, a mutual friend.

LABORI PLAYS COL. MAUREL.
The president of the court then called the next witness, Colonel Maurel, who was president of the Dreyfus court-martial in 1894. Complete silence fell upon the court as the infantry sergeant, who was acting as witness, conducted Maurel to the witness bar. The Colonel was attired in a black frock coat and wore the red ribbon of the Legion of Honor at his buttonhole. His hair is grey and he has a rugged iron-gray moustache. His face showed anxiety. As M. Labori lashed him with pointed questions, the Colonel hesitated, and then answered in a short, choppy manner, and when M. Labori finally disposed of him, the witness left the platform with the pale face and scared look of a man who has awakened from a nightmare.

Counsel had drawn from the Colonel a confession that the secret dossier was communicated to the judges of the court-martial of 1894 by Major Du Paty de Clam. This avowal produced a sensation in court, and Maurel's declaration that he only read and did not of the document did not affect the main fact, while his statement that the reading of the document had no effect upon him, as his mind was already made up, was nullified by his subsequent declaration that this one document sufficed to convince him.

MERCIER ON THE GRILL.

M. Labori then put a series of searching questions to General Mercier, with reference to the communication of the secret dossier for the court-martial, and his attitude in 1894, and an interesting scene ensued. The General refused to reply to all the questions, and there was a sharp passage at arms between counsel and Colonel Jouaust, who upheld General Mercier, while the dialogue between the General and M. Labori became a continuous. Counsel became very heated and showed his emotion in his voice and gestures. The General, however, remained calm and his mind might be said to have departed from the callous demeanor characteristic of him.

The lawyer made a strong point on the part of Esterhazy played. Mercier said he did not know Esterhazy, and only saw him once at the Zola trial.

"That is very interesting," exclaimed M. Labori. "But surely General Mercier was present at the Esterhazy trial?" The General replied that he was not there, but he knew nothing about the evidence in the Esterhazy prosecution.

"What," cried M. Labori, "General Mercier, who was the chief accuser of Dreyfus, did not even follow the proceedings in the Esterhazy trial?"

A loud murmur of surprise and indignation came from the audience, but Colonel Jouaust immediately suppressed it.

Counsel then brought General Mercier to his feet and put 250,000 francs worth of questions to the defender of Dreyfus, and asked the General to say how he knew this, who spent it and other awkward questions, which he was unable to answer.

A question of how the dossier arrived at the court was then introduced, which led to a strange scene for a court of law.

A BABEL OF WITNESSES.

General Roget on mounting the platform to give explanations was followed by General De Boisdeffre, M. Gribelin, Major Lauth and other military witnesses, all holding up their hands, showing that they desired to speak, while at the same time M. Labori was firing questions. The result was a perfect babel until the president of the court could stand it no longer, and when the government Commissioner, Major Carrière, also interpellated a few remarks, Colonel Jouaust turned to him and asked him to be quiet, remarking that the judges could not hear half a dozen people at the same time.

During the morning M. Labori questioned General Mercier with reference to a document in the secret dossier which, it is affirmed, existed prior to 1894 and yet was not produced at the first court-martial of the prisoner.

The General confessed that he did not know of its existence, and the same statement was elicited from General Gane, who declared that Colonel Sandherr was responsible for its non-production. The replies were tantamount to a confession that Colonel Sandherr and Lieutenant Colonel Henry placed no confidence in the Minister of War and General Gane, Assistant Chief of the Headquarters Staff, the Chief of the Intelligence Department, keeping from the two latter just what he pleased.

Then M. Labori proceeded to take up the Panzardi dispatch and to bring out the contradictory translations of it and the falseness of the final version.

DREYFUS' ANSWERS MERCIER.

After hearing General Mercier and General Chamoin on the subject, Colonel Jouaust declared the court would rule the dispatch out of evidence.
The examination of General Mercier having been concluded, Colonel Jouaust asked Dreyfus if he had anything to say, and the prisoner, in a calm voice, replied to Mercier's statement that he (Dreyfus) could have obtained the information about the artillery promised in the hot-doreau, while staying at Bourges, where artillery trials were being held. Dreyfus entered into an explanation as to how he spent his time, showing that he did not inform himself about the trials of the new gun brake.

General Hishour recounted what Captain Lebrun-Renaud said about 1895, and this brought the latter to his feet with a thrilling declaration. He pointed out that the Captain shook him by the hand when he returned to the prison, which is at variance with what General Hishour recounted.

"Moreover," cried Dreyfus, "when a frightful charge has been hanging over a man's head for five years, people ought not to talk of convictions, but should bring proofs. Otherwise I cease to understand the matter."
This indignation protest caused a deep sensation in court.

DREYFUS DENIES CONFESSION.

Continuing, Dreyfus proposed to totally deny the story that he had made a confession to Captain Lebrun-Renaud.

A number of other witnesses were heard, including M. Chesney de Beaurepaire's friend, Maurel, who was responsible for the story that he found a marginal note on the subject of the arrest of Dreyfus on a newspaper in Emperor whom have been deaf and dumb from infancy, took place last evening at the residence of the bride's parents on Linden street near Forty-second, Emeryville.

About fifty guests, many of whom were similarly afflicted with the young couple were present.
The ceremony took place under a floral bell in the parlor. Miss Nellie Aho was matron of honor, and A. P. Duggett, brother of the bride acted as best man.
The bride looked charming in white.
Rev. Hare of the Golden Gate Presbyterian Church repeated the marriage vows in a simple and dignified manner.
Berkeley, who in turn interpreted the words to the young couple.
At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party adjourned to a large den, and partook of the wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Hope took the 11:30 train

ALAMEDA

TRUSTEE BRICK
TAKEN TO TASK.

Not in Favor of Municipal Ownership of Light Plant.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 24.—The Editorial tonight will say:

It will state that the majority of the board are not in favor of municipal ownership of our electric light plant, and were elected by the people by a large majority on account of personal views and public utterances, against the purchase and control of the same by the said Municipal Ownership League and the Board of Trustees who were then in power.

These are the words attributed to Trustee Brick in a letter over his own signature in last night's Argus. It will be seen that the people of Alameda, but it will open their eyes to the danger of the situation and only add to the sentiment which now and has for some time prevailed among the friends of municipal ownership.

Mr. Brick's memory must be short today when he asks the public to believe such a statement.
The majority of the present Board of Trustees was elected upon a platform which distinctly pledged them to support of municipal ownership. Messrs.
Forsdick and Miller were elected upon the platform of the Municipal League, which pledged them to the municipal ownership of the electric light plant and of a waterworks system.

Mr. Mackie was elected upon the platform of the Alameda Electric Light and Water Works, which pledged them to the municipal ownership of the electric light plant and of a waterworks system.

"We are in favor of retaining our electric light plant under municipal control and of its modifying its management to exhibit a balance sheet more gratifying to taxpayers."

"We are in favor of municipal ownership of all public utilities when the people by their vote have signified that they wish such ownership."

It will thus be observed that so far from a majority of the Trustees having been elected because they were opposed to municipal ownership, as stated by Mr. Brick, they were elected on exactly the opposite pledge, and they now stand pledged to that policy. They cannot escape their pledge, except by a deliberate violation.

As to the hold-over members of the board, Messrs. Schutte and Brick, they were elected upon a platform which read as follows:

"We are in favor of municipal ownership of gas, water and electric light plants when the voters have signified an election that they wish such ownership."

Yet in the face of these declarations, Mr. Brick is quoted as declaring that the majority of the board is not in favor of municipal ownership, and was elected because of the known confession in opposition thereto of that majority!

It seems hardly possible that Mr.
Brick could have made such a statement in seriousness. Rather, would it seem more probable that an error has been committed in quoting him, though the words quoted at the head of this article are taken from a letter purporting to have been written by him.

Will Mr. Brick kindly state whether he is responsible for the utterance attributed to him and if so, will he kindly explain to the people how he reconciles his utterances in opposition to municipal ownership with the pledges solemnly taken by himself and each of all of his colleagues in favor of municipal ownership? The public is entitled to an explanation.

Merchants Will Close.

The merchants of Alameda will generally observe Saturday afternoon as a half holiday. Nearly all the stores will be closed.

tude in the Dreyfus affair. He will analyze those telegrams, the original text of which is in German and will endeavor to prove Captain Dreyfus' guilt thereby.

The government commissary will try to adopt a sympathetic attitude toward Esterhazy during future sittings. But he is expected to receive a terrible crushing back if he does so. Mollie Laboré is also indisposed to provoke Esterhazy more than is necessary.

In the meanwhile the chances that Esterhazy will be arrested in England before long are daily increasing. The charge against him probably will be criminal theft.

He recently wrote a blackmailing letter to a London paper, libeling Sir George Lewis, the solicitor, and a member of the royal family of England. The letter was clearly meant to be the Prince of Wales.

An Innocent German
Who Startled
Victoria.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
LONDON, Aug. 24.—Considerable alarm was created yesterday evening by a man throwing a letter into Queen Victoria's carriage as she was driving into Osborne, Isle of Wight. A rumor spread to the effect that the letter contained an explosive, but this turned out to be false. The police arrested the man, whose letter was only an appeal to her majesty to secure for him a new trial of a civil suit which he recently lost.

The prisoner was found to be a German, who was not aware that his action was against the law. As it was evident that he had no intention to do harm, the man was released. The Queen was surprised when the letter fell in her lap, but she betrayed no alarm.

HUGE DRYGOODS TRUST FORMING.

It Expects to Control
Two Thousands
Stores.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The Herald says: Arrangements are maturing for the organization of a $50,000,000 drygoods corporation in this city to control and operate drygoods and department stores throughout the country. The Mercantile Organization Company has recently been incorporated in Trenton, N. J., as a preliminary to creating big corporations.

Men well known in the drygoods trade have been working on the plan for six months. It is said, and have interested shoppers who will back the enterprise.
It is expected that the corporation will be launched in time for the fall trade.

E. P. Church, who was formerly with S. J. Jaffray & Co., is president of the preliminary company. H. S. Poff, a director of the State Banking Company, of Newark, N. J., is treasurer. J. H.
Stranger, president of the Martha Washington Milling Company, is secretary, and S. A. Haver, formerly of S. J. Jaff-ray & Co., is assistant director.

It is proposed to buy retail stores in cities having a population of 20,000 or more. The company expects to control from 500 to 2000 stores throughout the country. Many more houses, it is said, have already indicated their intention of joining the combination. Former proprietors of stores absorbed by the corporation will be retained as managers, and will have interests in the stores. They will become stockholders in the company.

It is proposed to control the output of certain mills, and all purchases will be made in immense quantities.

Little Harold Petry Receives Fatal Injuries.

Harold Petry, the eight-year-old son of C. A. Petry, 1535 Seventh street, was jumped from the Seventh street local this morning and received injuries which may result in his death.

The boy boarded the 5:30 train for the mile at Market street, intending to ride to Adeline street. It is claimed that there was no indication of the train stopping as it neared Adeline street so Harold jumped, landing on his head.

He was picked up unconscious and taken to the office of Dr. Kogan, who found that the child was suffering from a fracture of the left arm, concussion of the brain and internal injuries. The patient was made as comfortable as possible and then taken to his home.

It is impossible as yet to ascertain the probable result of the injury.

GEN. HALE DISCHARGED.
Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An order was issued at the War Department today honorably discharging from the volunteer Army Brigadier General Irving Hale, to take effect October 1st. General Hale went to the Philippines as Colonel of the First Colorado and was made a Brigadier General for gallant services.

General Hale is now at San Francisco.

large attendance is desired.

THE LIQUOR DISEASE
Cured in Twenty-one Days.
H. R. CONNELLEY THOS. F. HARDEN
Geo. E. HARDEN
Mr. Rose who signed the following letter was District Attorney of Shasta County for eight years:

REDDING, CAL., Aug. 16, 1899.
DEAR SIR:—
It is now more than a year since I took your treatment, and I have not taken a drink of liquor nor have I had a desire to do so.

Aside from the cure of the liquor disease
I would not take $500 for the benefit it has been to my general health. I think it will cure any of the ills of life except, perhaps, a broken bone.

Yours truly,
M. P. ROSE.

NO MONEY FROM SALOON BUSINESS.

Daughter of Frederick Delger Turns Two Tenants Out of Her Building.

A house divided against itself in a peculiar sense, is the summary of the presents of the famous old block on Broadway between Ninth and Tenth streets, forming a portion of the Delger estate, with reference to the relations between its landlords and one of their tenants. The tenant is Nathan Rosenberg, and the landlords are the daughters of the late Frederick Delger, Mrs. Madida Brown and Mrs. Lillian D. Brownbridge.

The block is the seat of the offices of Hon. William R. Davis and many other prominent professional men. It has also for many years been inhabited by the business of Nathan Rosenberg, who, with his son Joseph, has conducted a cigar store with a saloon attachment at No.
966 Broadway. The Rosenbergs are pulling up stakes at a great rate, and are smiling as hard as they can when asked by their friends the reason for the turmoil.

"Mrs. Brown personally called on me about two weeks ago," continued Mr. Rosenberg, "and told me that while she had been in the city, she had been in the city and no specific charge to make against my mode of conducting my business, she did not like my business and felt obliged to ask me to remove it from her premises. She mentioned that she had been in the city, and of course, I had very little to say. I spoke very gently and replied that if she did not like either me or my business, I had to go. When I perceived her condition, I knew there was no use in expostulating, I knew there had been in these quarters for two years." "I have paid in rent far more than the building is worth. Let me see, I have paid an average $1500 a year, which makes $30,000—fully double what this building is worth today, taking no account of compounding interest. Had this lady's father lived, I do not believe I would have been turned out of a place where I expected to end my business life."

"The singular circumstance about the matter is that we are moving into the other half of the same building, four floors higher up, where owner is Mrs.
Trowbridge, a sister of Mrs. Brown. Although I am naturally disposed, besides having to pay $500 to move four doors away, I have no animosity toward the lady. I appreciate her condition."

J. J. Carroll, the proprietor of the "Levee," under the Macdonough Theater, also has his story to tell. "It happened me out of exactly $2000 when I was given notice by this lady to quit just before last January. I was negotiating the sale of my business in the basement corner on Broadway and Ninth street. I felt that I was pretty badly treated at the time, but I could say nothing, as I did not care to enter into argument with a lady. She told me she had joined the church, and that when I was already the proprietor of this place, I was in that place five years. Mr. Delger must have thought pretty well of me, as he expended $500 in fitting up those premises. Mrs. Brown told me that she wanted to treat the Rosenbergs in the same manner, and now I hear she has kept her word."

protection and endorses the action of Pennsylvania Congressmen in voting for the Dingley tariff, and continues:
"We congratulate the country on the successful termination of the war with Spain, and recognize the wisdom of the policy President McKinley has inaugurated in the management of the Philippines. We pledge our support to his faithful support in the prosecution of the war in the Philippines in order that the star map of the flag planted there by the valor of our army and navy be maintained."

In additional paragraphs the platform says:
"We have ceased to be content with supplying products for home consumption alone. We must keep pace with other nations in seeking new fields for our commerce, and to this end we support the policy of industrial, commercial and national expansion."

"We favor for our national defense and the protection of closer commercial relations between the sections of our vast territory, now an imperative necessity, the immediate commencement and early completion of a great canal that will give communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, as well as its protection against foreign control."

"We favor the building up of a merchant marine upon the lines laid out in the bill reported favorably to the Senate and House, second session, Fifty-first Congress, so that we may have a reserve defense in case of war, and that two hundred millions of dollars may remain in the American ship builder, the American ship owner, the American seaman and the American mechanic."

A plank in the platform endorsing the appointment of Colonel Quay to the United States Senate and pledges the party to a reduction in the expenditures of the departments of the State government.

SENATOR QUAY A DELEGATE.
A feature of the convention was the presence of Senator Quay as a delegate from Beaver county, who is considered from a severe illness. David E. Martin was missing from his place in the Philadelphia delegation. Senator Penrose and Congressman Bingham entered the convention hall together and were greeted with applause.

A demonstration was given Senator Quay when he entered the hall, accompanied by State Chairman Elkin. A meeting of anti-Quay delegates was held prior to the convention, at which it was decided to vote for Bryan for President and Hon. Daines Bishop of Philadelphia for Superior Court Judge. Mr.
Bishop is a member of the Superior Court by appointment of Governor Hastings, and his term will expire next January.

It was also agreed to vote for Colonel Burritt and oppose the plank in the platform endorsing Governor Stone's appointment of Senator Quay.

SENATOR PENROSE CHAIRMAN.
The convention was called to order by Chairman Elkin and Senator Penrose was elected temporary chairman. He made an eloquent speech on taking the chair.

THE PLATFORM.
The platform as adopted begins as follows:
"We congratulate the people upon the results of the campaign of 1896, the establishment of a sound currency, the securing of proper protection to American industry and the election of that champion of the common people, William McKinley, to be President of the United States. The Republican party has been in control of the national Government for a little more than two years, and during that time every promise made by it has been fulfilled."

"Business is active and remunerative; labor is employed at good and increasing wages; capital has ample field for investment and an era of unexampled prosperity has been inaugurated. Much of the success of the Republican policy adopted in 1896 is due to the good judgment, wise counsel, administrative ability, far-reaching diplomacy and broad-minded statesmanship of our illustrious President. We firmly support and fully endorse his administration and place on record the wish of the Republicans of Pennsylvania that he be named to lead our hosts to victory in the campaign of 1900, and to this end we recommend the election of delegates who will give his candidacy earnest and vigorous support in the next national convention."

The platform further pledges the party to the success of the Republican policy of the gold standard and against the free coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1; renounces allegiance to the policy of

TO THE VICTOR BELONGS SPOILS.

Councilman Girard Says He Would Turn Out all the Democrats.

Councilman Girard, after some hesitation, made this utterance for the readers of THE TRIBUNE on the latest phase of the differences between the Mayor and the Superintendent of Streets:

"I have tried for a long time to keep these two high city officials together. Mayor Snow seems to have some kind of personal feeling against Mr. Miller. But were elected on the same ticket and by the same element. So, likewise, was Mr. Daw elected by the same element with them. All these officials ought to work harmoniously and leave personal feeling apart."

"The Mayor appears to be holding Commissioner Clement as a sort of Damocles' sword over the head of Miller—not, however, because there is anything in common between the Mayor and Clement. They are as far apart in interest and interests as the poles, although Mr. Clement does not appear to be aware of that fact."

"I believe that to the victor belong the spoils. If the two Republican Commissioners will remove from the various departments all incompetent Democrats and appoint competent Republicans to their places, the Republican party will hold its own and hold together for the next two years; otherwise, it won't."

"Mayor Snow's best friends have been greatly disappointed in his actions and attitude toward Miller, as also toward Commissioner Dow. Mr. Miller is no politician. He lacks the tact requisite to a good politician. But, we all know that he is making a first-class Superintendent of Streets. He is capable, economical—above all, he is honest. For years he has been accustomed to give directly to the Council his estimates for

QUESTION OF CITIZENSHIP.

Mexico Asks Redress for Acts of Texas Officials.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—A special to the Tribune from Austin, Texas, says:

The recent tortures inflicted upon six Mexican prisoners confined in the Hidalgo County Jail by officials of that county, in an effort to extort ransom, has become an international affair. Four of the prisoners claim to be citizens of Mexico, and they appealed to President Porfirio Diaz for aid and redress. The appeal was referred to the Mexican Ambassador at Washington. The latter has taken the matter in hand. Governor Sawyer today received a telegram from the Mexican Consul at San Antonio, Texas, as follows:

"If you have finished your investigation regarding the six Mexican prisoners in the Hidalgo County Jail, complaining of ill treatment will you kindly wire me the result, as the Mexican Embassy is solicited about the matter."

Governor Sawyer replied to the Consul's telegram as follows:

"My information, derived from W. N. Parks, is that the parties so confined are citizens of Texas. If this be true, I cannot recognize the right of that county to take cognizance of the matter, and the prisoners placed themselves from their native country. Under the naturalization laws, if they become citizens of this State, the Mexican government is estopped from interfering. Derived from another source, however, I am led to believe that there is some doubt as to the citizenship of one of the parties so confined. Into this particular fact, I am investigating, and I will advise you at the earliest moment practicable."

CREDIT IS DUE TO A. SCHILLING.

The streets of San Francisco present a very fine appearance with the beautiful decorations that have been put up to welcome the returning volunteers. This has taken time, energy and a vast amount of work to accomplish. A. Schilling of 1225 Broadway, the credit for converting the streets into a magnificent floral bower. Mr. Schilling was given full sway in the matter of decorating, and so divided the city into five districts and assigned a flower who are now in San Francisco, cheerfully assisted in the task of making the home city attractive to the California soldier boys.

The good taste displayed in every detail reflects credit on the artistic ability of Mr. Schilling.

When the car reached Thirteenth and Grove streets, however, Mrs. Durant fainted from exhaustion, and was carried to a nearby street to await the ambulance. She had recovered from her fainting fit by the time the ambulance arrived, and was immediately taken to the hospital.

SULTAN OF SULU UPWARD SOAR COMES TO TIME IRON PRICES.

General Bates Proves Himself a Clever Diplomat. Premiums Offered to Secure Prompt Delivery.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Manila correspondent of the Herald, describing the agreement with the Sultan of Sulu says:

The Sultan agrees to all the American terms proposed and recognizes the absolute sovereignty of the United States, which the authorities declare he never did for Spain.

An important clause of the treaty gives Americans the right to purchase and use all the ports which the Sultan formerly occupied, and reserve the right to open others at our discretion.

The Sultan collects no revenues, but will receive an annual salary, maintaining law and order. Several of the principal chiefs also are salaried.

The Sultan's mother is largely responsible for the happy conclusion of affairs. General Bates had diplomatically gained the friendship of all the powerful chiefs in Alitunao, Basilan, Sulu, Siasi and Tawitawi, and had the Sultan rebelled, his overthrow could have been easily accomplished.

BOND ISSUE IS NOT NECESSARY.

Other Means Will Be Found to Meet the Army Deficit.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

The Fifty-fifth Congress appropriated for the maintenance of the army, including all expenses except those for the construction of fortifications, about $50,000,000.

It had authorized the President to raise an army of 100,000 men, and it was supposed to be allowing the use of money appropriated to keep these men in the field, as it could not be assumed that the force asked for would be unnecessary.

If the War Department were to regulate its expenditures according to the sum appropriated by Congress, it would spend for the army about $6,500,000 a month. Two months of the fiscal year have almost passed, and in those two months the army has cost more than $13,000,000. At that rate the appropriation for the army will not last until December. Some of the money, it is explained, is going out to meet contracts entered into last year, and the average expenditure will be smaller after a month or two. But it will have to be much less than $6,500,000 a month until deficiency bills can be passed.

Secretary Gage was asked whether he thought it would be necessary to sell bonds to provide money with which to maintain the army. He replied that he thought not.

If Congress had authorized the expenditure of more than $50,000,000 for the army in the fiscal year, it is the Secretary's opinion that the income from the customs and internal revenue would be sufficient to meet every demand of the treasury. It seems to be, not the difficulty about raising money, but the authority to spend it.

The estimate submitted to Congress for the army asked for $14,000,000 for the year, on the assumption that 100,000 men would be allowed to be maintained in the army. The cutting off of the $14,000,000 seems to have been ill judged, for if the expenditures continue as they have been in July and August, the appropriation will not be half enough.

But the Treasury will not sell bonds to remedy the matter. The only remedy will be the consent of Congress that more than $50,000,000 may be expended.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE UNTIL MONDAY

MAYOR SNOW WILL BE IN THE PARADE.

A communication has been received by Mayor Snow from Grand Marshal L. C. Pistoles of San Francisco, inviting the city officials of Oakland and the officers of Alameda county to take part in the grand parade to be tendered the California Volunteers Saturday evening.

There they will join the officials of that city, continuing with San Francisco. There they will join with them under the same escort during the parade.

Mayor Snow accepted the invitation, and wrote Mr. Pistoles, telling him the sincere pleasure it gave him to do so.

A meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, in the Council chamber, to make such arrangements for the event as may be deemed necessary.

All Grand Army veterans are invited to fall in and be escorted to San Francisco by the Veteran Reserves and city officials. The men will meet at the armory of the Reserves at Twelfth and Webster streets at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

ROCKHILL ON TRIAL IN COURT.

The examination of Edward Rockhill, on the charge of attempt to murder his wife, was begun in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. The complaining witness told how her husband had cut her several times with a butcher knife, because she could not cook his dinner in the way he wanted. She was not so clear, however, as to how the gun was discharged, save that she thought the discharge took place while she and her husband were struggling for possession of the weapon. The case was continued until Saturday next.

GOOD WORK OF GENERAL BATES INDUCES FIERCE MOROS TO ACKNOWLEDGE OUR SOVEREIGNTY.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—General Otis today called on War Department that General Bates has returned from his conference with the Moros, and confirming the Associated Press dispatches as to the results of the mission. General Otis says:

"General Bates returned. Mission successful. Agreement made with Sultan and Moros whereby sovereignty of United States over entire Jolo archipelago acknowledged. Its flag to fly on land and sea. United States to occupy and control all the points deemed necessary. Including the arms prohibited. Sultan to assist in suppressing piracy. Agrees to deliver criminals accused of crime not committed by Moros against Moros. Relations between United States troops and all Moros very friendly. Two other points in archipelago will be occupied by United States troops when trade and commerce can be controlled. Moros western Mindanao friendly, ask permission to drive out insurgents. Reports by mail."

GENERAL MILES PRAISES ROOT.

He Declares that Otis Has Shown Himself a Fine Officer.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—General Nelson A. Miles said to the Philadelphia correspondent of the Tribune:

"The new Secretary of War is a man of business. As a result of his experience in the war, he has a clear vision of the country have demanded a vigorous prosecution of the war in the Philippines; now they will have it."

"I know nothing about a change of command of the island. My commanding of the army has nothing to do with the administration. As Major-General commanding, I am responsible for the health and discipline of the army. Both are in excellent condition."

"General Otis is a fine officer. That has been demonstrated by the splendid morale of the army; its health and its efficiency in the field in the Philippines."

"The inadequate force to meet the requirements has been the cause of some trouble. But the results which have been achieved. Our army, notwithstanding the superiority of the enemy in numbers, has been victorious in every engagement. The army may be large and valiant enough to defeat an army equal to its own, but it takes additional force to hold the towns in an enemy's country and to cover lines of communication."

"About 20 per cent of our army under any conditions is practically inactive, owing to various duties about the camp and in the hospitals, transportation, sickness and various other causes. In the civil war only a portion of the army operated on the fighting line. A great bulk of the troops were engaged in various duties in the rear."

"Much embarrassment has been occasioned by the supplying of the army with food and munitions of war by their friends in Manila and Hongkong, not to speak of encouragement from their friends in the States. It is difficult to discipline in the enemy's country between non-combatants and the foe."

SAMPSON STANDS ON HIS DIGNITY.

He Will Not Go to Sea to Meet Admiral Dewey.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Hear Admiral Sampson's fleet will not meet Admiral Dewey when the hero of Manila Bay comes with the Olympia to be the guest of New York and the nation. Instead, the Admiral will come here part unretired, and then the Rear Admiral, coming from his anchored flagship to the Olympia, will extend to Admiral Dewey a welcome on behalf of the Navy Department and pay his own respects. These facts were made very plain to the Dewey Reception Committee's plan and escape committee by Rear Admiral John W. Philip and Captain Robley L. Evans, and it also was plainly stated that Rear Admiral Sampson did not approve of the committee's plan, which provided that warships should go to sea and escort the Olympia in.

Sampson's fleet will assemble, according to the new program, at Tompkinsville, "in ample time to welcome Admiral Dewey."
